DOUBTS DISPELLED.

Europe Convinced That Legation-ers Are Safe.

LETTERS OF A RECENT DATE

Smuggled Out From Peking by Survivors Received at Berlin.

ATTACKS ON FOREIGNERS CEASED

Washington Officials Are Advised That the Enemy Stopped Shelling the Legations and That the Forces of the Boxers at Chinese Capital Are Decreasing.

Berlin, July 30.—A dispatch from the German legation at Peking dated July 2, reports "All well."

Washington, July 30.—The view which the Washington cabinet has taken from the beginning that with the exception of Baron Von Ketteler, the legationers at Peking were alive long after the date which was said to have marked their massacre, is being slowly but surely confirmed.

The most important contribution in support of our government's position since the receipt of the Conger autograph letter, representing the foreign ministers to have been alive on July 4 came from United States Consul Fowler at Chefoo.

The letter referred to by the consul as coming from the German legation at Peking is supposed here to have been an autographic letter and as such absolutely removed from the possibility of fraud.

The Japanese representative is also understood to have come down to the sea without having passed through Chinese hands. That was one of the first results of the private messenger system inaugurated by the commanders of the allied forces. Taken in conjunction the two reports submitted by Mr. Fowler added overwhelmingly to the weight of testimony in favor of existence of the legationers.

General Chaffee, whose arrival is reported by cable from Chefoo, certainly made remarkable time in going from Nagasaki to Taku in two days, showing that the transport Grant must have been pressed to her utmost. The general's horses are expected to arrive there in about a week, when the forward movement on Peking probably will begin.

English Officials Convinced.

London, July 30.—At last the British government is convinced that the ministers at Peking are safe. First advices were regarded with a certain amount of doubt. But once the British consul at Tien Tsin officially confirmed them, all doubts vanished. In the house of commons the parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, Mr. William St. John Frederick, read the dispatch from the British consul at Tien Tsin, saying that the foreign ministers at Peking were safe July 22. Sir Broderick also read a dispatch in which the statement was made that a strong body of troops, composed almost entirely of Hwang-Sus was around the legations, and that the Chinese were forced to block the river with sunken craft, with a breach on the left bank, in order to flood the country to the eastward. Mr. Broderick added that the council of admirals decided, July 16, that the railroad between Taku and Tien Tsin should be guarded and managed by the Russians. The government has informed Russia it acquiesced, as the arrangement might be the most convenient, but that it must be clearly understood that the line would revert to its former management, that is, the British, on termination of hostilities. Mr. Broderick added that he did not yet know who was to have supreme command.

Fowler's Dispatch.

Washington, July 30.—The secretary of state received at midnight a dispatch from Minister Fowler, American consul at Chefoo, dated July 29. Mr. Fowler says: "A letter from the German legation dated 21st instant received at Tien Tsin. German lost is 10 dead and 12 wounded. Chinese ceased their attack on the 12th. Baron Von Ketteler's body said to be safe. The Austrian, Dutch and Spanish legations destroyed and the French partially. A letter from the Japanese legation dated 22nd arrived at Tien Tsin on 25th. Chinese battery shelled the legations consecutively from the 20th of June and stopped on the 15th of July, but may renew. The enemy are decreasing. The German, Russian, American, British and half the Japanese and French legations still defended. Japanese say they have food for six days, but little ammunition. The emperor and empress are reported at Peking."

Message From Peking.

Berlin, July 30.—The German consul at Tien Tsin has telegraphed under date of Saturday, July 28, to the foreign office as follows: "The German secretary of legation at Peking, Herr Below, writes July 21st: 'Thanks for your news. July 19, the condition of Cordes satisfactory. The remaining members of the legation are all right. The detachment of guards lost 10 killed and 14 wounded. The houses of the legation, much damaged by cannon fire, are held by the guard. The attack of the Chinese troops on us ceased July 16. Speediest possible advance of relief troop urgently necessary. According to trustworthy report the body of Baron Ketteler has been buried by the Chinese government.' Cordes, mentioned in the above dispatch, is second interpreter of the German legation. He was with Baron Von Ketteler when the latter was murdered."

Sent a Runner.

New York, July 30.—A dispatch from Chefoo, July 27, says: "The Japanese consul at Tien Tsin sent a runner on July 15 to Peking. On the 19th the runner left Peking, bringing a cipher telegram to the Japanese government. It reads that we are defending ourselves against the Chinese very well, but now the attack has stopped. We will keep up to the last of the month, although it will be no easy task. The Japanese casualties are: Killed, Kosima, diplomatic attache, captain and one student and also a few of marines; wounded, five or six; slightly wounded, very many. The Japanese consul says that nothing was written about the other ministers."

British Are Convinced.

London, July 30.—The British consul at Tien Tsin, telegraphs to the foreign office that a letter from a Japanese colonel in Peking states that the legations were safe July 22. There had been no firing on the legation since July 17. The consul adds: "A reliable messenger, who failed to enter Peking, but reached there returns stating that there was no firing on the legations between July 15 and July 19." In view of this evidence the British government is convinced that the legations are safe.

Chinese Trapped.

Tien Tsin, July 22, via Shanghai, July 30.—The latest advices from Peking, under date of July 15, say that the legations are holding out. The Chinese attacked the legations on the night of July 10, but were led into a trap by the Americans and British and 1,000 of them were killed. Afterward they continued bombarding the legations more freely.

Out of Danger.

Brussels, July 30.—A dispatch from the Russian admiral, Alexieff, dated at Tien Tsin, July 30, and communicated to the foreign office, states that the latest news confirms the report that the foreign ministers at Peking are out of danger.

Message From Chaffee.

Washington, July 30.—The war department has received the following cablegram from Major General Chaffee, dated Chefoo, July 29: "Left Nagasaki daybreak on July 26. Arrived at Taku 10 p. m. of July 28."

Communication Restored.

New York, July 30.—The cable companies sent out the following notice: "We are advised that communication between Shanghai and Chefoo is restored."

England's Proposed Action.

London, July 30.—The premier and minister of foreign affairs, Lord Salisbury, in the house of Lords, and Mr. A. J. Balfour, the first lord of the treasury and government leader in the house of commons, gave notice that they intended to move an address to the queen, conveying an expression of the indignation and deep concern with which parliament had learned of the assassination of her majesty's ally, the king of Italy, and praying that her majesty convey an expression to the present king on behalf of the lords and commons, of their deep abhorrence of the crime and of sympathy with the royal family and people of Italy.

Valuable Concession.

City of Mexico, July 30.—The government federation has granted a valuable concession to A. J. Streeter of New Windsor, Ill., for the famous Fuerte river valley, in the state of Sinaloa. Fuerte valley has an area of 200,000 acres, and Mr. Streeter himself owns 65,000 acres near Topolobampo Bay.

ASSASSIN OF HUMBERT

Recently Went From America to Italy to Commit the Crime.

MANY MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE.

Officials of Civilized Governments of Both Hemispheres Express Regrets at the Untimely Killing of the King of Italy.

Monza, July 30.—After the shooting of King Humbert here Sunday night, as soon as his majesty's attendant could realize what had happened he was placed in his carriage and driven as rapidly as possible to the place. He was, however, beyond human aid.

The assassin's name is variously given as Angelo and Gaetano Bressi. He was born in Prato, November 10, 1869, and is a weaver by trade.

He comes from America, where he had resided in Paterson, N. J. He says he had no accomplices, and that he committed the crime because of his hatred of monarchical institutions. He reached Monza, July 27, from Milan, where he stayed a few days.

About the Assassin.

Paterson, N. J., July 30.—The rumor that Angelo Bressi, who was arrested at Monza, Italy, for the assassination of King Humbert had lived here, caused quite a sensation in the Italian quarter. It was learned that a silk weaver named Angelo Bressi, aged 30 years had worked in the silk mills owned by Hamil & Booth in this city up to May 7 last. He left for Italy about that date and nothing has been heard of him since. Those who knew him say he was an inoffensive man. It is said he had a wife and a seven-year-old daughter, who lived somewhere in Hoboken, and that he visited them regularly every Sunday. Where they lived, or whether they accompanied him on his return to Italy could not be ascertained.

Had to Take Chances.

Milford, Mass., July 30.—General William F. Draper, United States ambassador to Italy, who recently arrived at his home here, when informed of the assassination of King Humbert, was very much affected. "I am terribly shocked and infinitely distressed," he said. "This must have been the work of an anarchist. At the time of the attack upon the empress of Austria, King Humbert was cautioned to be more careful of his safety, but he said 'I must take chances. That is part of the trade of a king.' He was a man always of the most invincible courage. It was his daily habit to drive about Rome entirely unattended." Ambassador Draper said that King Humbert was very popular with all of his subjects except those opposed to all government and the extreme Clericals, and added: "All the world will sympathize with Queen Margherita in her grief."

Messages of Condolence.

Washington, July 30.—The following message of condolence on the death of King Humbert has been sent from this country to Italy by President McKinley: "Department of state, Washington, July 30.—His Majesty, Vittorio Emanuele, Rome.—In my name and on behalf of the American people, I offer your majesty and the Italian nation sincere condolence in this, their hour of deep bereavement." The following message has been sent to Baron Fava, the Italian ambassador to this country, by Secretary Hay: "The tidings of the king's assassination has profoundly shocked public sentiment. The president has telegraphed to his majesty, Vittorio Emanuele, offering in his name and on behalf of the American people, sincere condolences in this hour of deep bereavement. Permit me to add the assurances of personal sympathy."

Rome in Mourning.

Rome, July 30.—Signs of mourning are rapidly appearing throughout the city. Crepe is displayed upon many residences and public buildings. Portraits of the murdered monarch occupy points of vantage, draped in black and flags are flying at half mast everywhere. King Humbert's remains will be brought to Rome and laid to rest in the Pantheon. It is stated that the name of the assassin does not appear in the list of dangerous anarchists known to the police.

London Embassy Informed.

London, July 30.—The Italian embassy here has received the following announcement of the death of King Humbert. "We have the sad news to announce to you that his majesty, King Humbert, has just died last evening (Sunday) at Monza, being the victim of an infamous assassination. Kindly inform the English government of this sad news. His majesty, King Victor Emmanuel III., who is off the coast of Greece is on his way back to the kingdom."

Baron Fava Confirms.

New York, July 30.—Baron Fava, who is at Seabright, N. J., announced in a telegram to the press that he had received official news of the death of King Humbert. The telegram was as follows: "Have received official confirmation of the death of his majesty, King Humbert, who was murdered at Monza yesterday evening, Sunday. King Victor Emmanuel III. is now at Ploer, Greece, and has left for the kingdom."

MOTION OVERRULED.

Peremptory Instructions For Verdict of Acquittal Not Allowed.

Georgetown, Ky., July 30.—The trial of Caleb Powers, charged with being an accessory before the fact to the murder of William Goebel was resumed.

The jury was polled and then excluded for a time during which ex-Governor Brown for the defense made a motion for peremptory instructions for a verdict of acquittal. The motion was submitted without argument and was promptly overruled by the court. The defendant occupied his customary seat among the attorneys for the defense and seemed to direct for the most part the movements of his counsel. A large number of witnesses for the defense, including ex-Governor W. O. Bradley, arrived. Lawyer Faulkner of Barbourville, stated the case, giving the line of evidence for the defense.

He reviewed the political events for the last nine months and said the defense would show that the contests over the state offices were not tried on judicial lines, but on a partisan basis, and that politics were responsible for the present prosecutions. He intimated the prosecution knows the identity of the assassin, but has concealed him. He said it would be admitted that Caleb Powers and Charles Finley organized and brought to Frankfort the crowd of mountain men who arrived there January 25, but that was only to petition the legislature and not to intimidate that body.

He claimed it would be shown that the men who composed the mountain army were not bad characters as charged by the other side, and he charged also that the Democrats at that time had large bodies of men in Frankfort to back up the contests.

The defendant, Caleb Powers, took the witness stand. Witness never knew Jim Howard, Harland Whittaker or Richard Combs, three of the defendants, prior to the assassination. Had only known Youtsey since January first.

In regard to the bringing of the mountaineers to Frankfort the witness said: "There were three crowds of men brought to Frankfort, and I had something to do with the organization of each. The purpose was to show the interest of these people in the matters at issue at that time and not to intimidate either the state election board or the legislature. I instructed the men to do no acts of violence and so far as I know none was committed by them."

Witness continued: "The last crowd of men were brought for a double purpose. We expected to use them as witnesses before the contest board and also to show by their presence the interest they felt in the contest. We also heard rumors that we were to be forcibly ejected from the offices. These rumors I based on newspaper reports and we intended to resist violence."

Continuing, the witness said he had received information that Mr. Hill, the contestant for secretary of state, would not wait till the contests were settled in court, but would undertake to take forcible possession as soon as the contest board acted. "If that sort of thing," said he, "had been attempted, we intended to hold the offices. I had a conference with Governor Taylor and he advised the bringing of a large body of men to show their interest in political affairs. He also advised that they be brought armed, and promised to pay the expenses. I acted on this." The plans were kept a secret, he said, to prevent dropping us through a bridge or derailing our train. "I told those in the conference," he said, "the utmost secrecy must be observed in getting them there before the news got out."

Ship Wreck.

London, July 30.—The British ship Sutherlandshire, Captain Nicol, from Rotterdam, May 3 for Kiao Chou, whence she was to sail for Portland, Oregon, grounded at Sumatra on July 27 and became a total wreck. Thirteen of her crew were drowned.

SURRENDER OF BOERS

Under General Prinsloo Announced by British Commander.

FIVE THOUSAND PRISONERS OF WAR.

Lord Roberts Informs the War Department at London of the Movements Which Led Up to the Capitulation.

London, July 30.—The following official dispatch has been received from Lord Roberts, dated Pretoria, July 29. "On July 26 MacDonald fought a rear guard action with the enemy from early morning until dark, nine miles outside of Naauwpoort, in the Bethlehem hills, resulting in his effectually blocking Naauwpoort Nek to the Boer wagons."

"Hunter reports that the enemy twice checked his advance by holding strong positions on two necks, one of which was taken before dark by the Scots and the Royal Irish, the Wiltshire and the Leinster regiments. Our casualties were only five or six. The second neck was taken during the fight by the Scots and Guards without opposition, the enemy retiring closely to Naauwpoort."

"Prisoners taken state that 1,200 burghers would surrender if guaranteed that they would be treated as prisoners of war and not as rebels. To this I had assented. As a result of these operations Prinsloo, commanding the Boers, asked, under a flag of truce this morning a four days armistice for peace negotiations."

"Hunter replied the only terms he could accept were unconditional surrender, and until these were complied with, hostilities could not cease. I expressed my approval and told Hunter on no account to enter into negotiations."

"As I am writing a telegram has come from Hunter saying that Prinsloo had written a second letter expressing willingness to hand over himself with his men, rifles, ammunition and their firearms upon condition that the horses, saddles, bridles and other possessions of the burghers be guaranteed them and they be free to return to their homes."

"I have replied that the surrender must be absolutely unconditional, that all rifles, ammunition, horses and other possessions must be given up, and that the burghers will be considered prisoners of war. I added that Prinsloo's overtures will not be allowed in any way to interfere with Hunter's operations, which must be continued until the enemy is defeated or have surrendered."

A later dispatch from General Roberts dated July 29, confirms the surrender of Prinsloo with 5,000 Boers.

Alabama Election.

Birmingham, Ala., July 30.—The state election will be held in one week. The greater part of the campaign work has been done in the counties which heretofore have returned Populist majorities. The indications are that the number of Populist counties will be reduced to less than 75 per cent. In one county—Shelby—the Democrats waited a little too long in notifying the probate judge of the county of Democratic candidates and the names will be omitted from the official ballot. This did not occur in any other county and some stiff work has been done in behalf of the Democratic ticket.

President Remained at Work.

Canton, O., July 30.—Senator Fairbanks of Indiana reached Canton, coming from his home in Indianapolis. He went direct to the home of Judge and Mrs. Day, where he will be a guest. He is here to talk over a number of things with the president. Soon after reaching the city the senator and Judge Day went to the McKinley home and were engaged with the president for some time. The president has been very busy with official work and when the carriage was brought out he did not go for the usual morning airing. Mrs. McKinley and her sister took a drive.

A Fatal Fall.

Ogden, Utah, July 30.—George H. Berghett, paying teller of the Ogden State bank, was killed in Pine canyon by falling off a cliff 500 feet high. His body was mangled beyond recognition.

Steamer Wrecked.

Cape Haytien, July 30.—The Dutch steamer Prince Wilhelm I., has been wrecked on the north side of the island of Inagua. The passengers and crew were saved.

Generally fair to day and Wednesday.

"If the powers of the world go to war with China, wheat and bread stuffs of every description will go to a higher mark than they have been for years," remarks the Fair Gazette. And then how the little two-by-four Republican campaign stumpers and editors will shout, "See what Boss Hanna and McKinley have done for the farmers!"

Mr. RATHBONE has at last been arrested for his "imperial" extravagance in Cuba, the Government at Washington having decided to prosecute him for expending the Cuban revenues on such things as dog collars, pool tables, suits and hats for footmen &c., &c. Rathbone and Neely no doubt went on the idea that "imperialism" was a good thing.

Ask an anti-Goebelite about the Powers trial and he expresses his belief that there is no evidence to convict the accused; ask a Democrat and he is of just the opposite opinion. Here's an outside view of the case from the Chicago Post:

The prosecution in the Goebel murder trial continues to produce testimony of the gravest and most damaging character against the defendant Powers, and former Gov. Taylor and the other indicted men. * * * We are of course bound to adhere to the presumption of innocence, and proof of guilt beyond a reasonable doubt is necessary to a conviction, but it is interesting to note that the evidence is producing an impression outside of the court room. Even Gov. Mount, who has illegally shielded Taylor and Finley, has been moved to declare that he was closely studying the trial and that his decision on the extradition requisition was not irrevocable. Mount is beginning to feel somewhat uneasy.

HAULING DOWN THE FLAG.

"By the courtesy of William McKinley, our imperial President, the richest gold placer mines of Alaska have been transferred to the ownership of England," remarks the New York Journal. "A strip of territory half as large as Long Island has been turned over to Great Britain for the mere asking. Two thousand American miners who discovered valuable claims in American territory have been given over to Canada, to be deprived of $3,000,000 gold output by the British Columbia laws. The Porcupine mining district is now English territory, and the American miners will be forced to pay their miners' tax to British authority."

This act of the administration has stirred up the New York Sun, hitherto a staunch supporter of McKinley. The Sun says:

The reported delimitation of the Alaskan boundary above Chilkat is a "compromise line," that is to say, a line transferring to Canada territory which this Government has claimed and held for thirty years under the title derived from Russia. The size of the strip which it is proposed to yield is not a matter of much consequence. As a matter of fact perhaps from 1,200 to 1,500 square miles are included. Nor does it make a great difference that the line is described as temporary and provisional. It will be regarded everywhere as a preparation for formal cession hereafter. Fuller explanations than have yet been vouchsafed by the State Department are desirable. We consider it a duty to inform Secretary Hay that American sentiment is not likely to tolerate compromise lines that mark off to any European power, however friendly we may be to that power, any portion of American territory.

COLD BLOODED

Was the Republican Conspiracy to Kill Gov. Goebel.

Scathing Comments of the Press on the Trial of Caleb Powers.

Boston Herald: "A more cold-blooded conspiracy has seldom been conceived. It was an assertion frequent on every hand that Goebel should never live to hold the office of Governor, and this, doubtless, led to his summary killing at the hands of these violent men. There was aggravation offered to the Republicans of Kentucky, but the extent of the murderous recklessness of the men who laid this plot does not appear to have been appreciated by their political opponents."

Arkansas Gazette: "A strong case has been made by the prosecution against Caleb Powers, who is on trial at Georgetown, Ky. * * * If Powers is guilty of conspiracy in the foul murder of Goebel, the sworn testimony establishing his guilt involves Taylor, and goes to show that he at least tacitly consented to carrying out the plans which could have no other purpose than the blotting out of human life when it stood in the way of continued power for the Taylor State government. A great hue and cry has been raised by the Kentucky Republicans against what is flippantly termed Goebelism. Whatever that designation may mean, it does not stand for murder and anarchy. It is far and away to be preferred to Taylorism."

Arkansas Democrat: "The evidence against Caleb Powers, on trial at Georgetown, Ky., for participation in the Goebel assassination, is very strong. Culton's evidence and that of Robert Noaks made it quite apparent that if Powers did not fire the shot he helped to plan the assassination. It will be a miracle if he escapes a just punishment for the part he took in that horrible conspiracy."

Washington Times: "It would be impossible, with any regard for truth, to congratulate the Republican party upon the developments which have occurred in the course of the trial of one of its local leaders at Georgetown, Ky., as an accomplice in the murder of the late Gov. Goebel. * * * 'Murder will out!' The country will learn all the black details of the political crime perpetrated by Republican officeholders to keep themselves in office, in due course of time. And when the returns are in it will not be pleasant for the national leaders who have shown an inclination to harbor and protect murderers."

Toledo Bee: "The evidence of some of the conspirators shows conclusively that Gov. Goebel's assassination was premeditated and was the result of a foul political plot. We don't wonder that ex-Gov. Taylor gives Kentucky a wide berth under the protection of the Republican Governor of Indiana. Gov. Mount will learn before he is through with Taylor that the great majority of the Republicans in this country do not approve of murder, even though a Democrat be murdered to advance the interest of the Republican party. And the insight we begin to get into the character of the Republicans who manage that party in Kentucky will give Republicans a different and better opinion of Gov. Goebel than they had before. However vicious the Goebel election law may have been, it couldn't have worked more harm to Kentucky than the desperate Taylor-Powers gang would have worked had they secured control of the State."

Binghampton Leader: "The Republican organs would like to make it appear that this votary of assassination is at the mercy of a packed jury, suborned witnesses and a prejudiced Judge, but the intelligent reading public is, fortunately, capable of judging for itself. The g. o. p. is willing to screen its assassins when there is political capital to be made out of such a course."

CONGRESSIONAL CONTESTS.

The Fight Is On In Kentucky—Claims of the Democrats—The Ninth District.

[Courier-Journal.]

While neither the Democrats nor the Republicans have yet made all their nominations, the contests for Congress from the eleven districts of Kentucky virtually have been made up, with the result that both parties are making serious claims to ten members of the next Congressional delegation. The Democrats, of course, expect to lose the Eleventh district, while the Republicans have no serious thought of defeating Congressman Charles K. Wheeler in the First. He and Congressman Vincent Boreing, of the Eleventh, are conceded to be safe.

The Democrats also claim that there is no shadow of doubt about the Second, Sixth, Seventh and Tenth, while the Republicans can not say so much, in all sincerity, about any district save the Eleventh. They do not concede, however, that the Democrats have a walk-over in the Second, Sixth, Seventh and Tenth, since the Republicans hope, by fusion with the Brown following, to elect their candidates.

The Democrats have nominated candidates in all save the Fifth and Sixth districts, while the Republicans have only nominated in the Fourth, Fifth, Ninth and Eleventh districts. They are playing a waiting game, because they hope to help the National and State tickets by making concessions to Brown men in the Congressional nominations.

The closest Congressional district in Kentucky is the Ninth, which frequently elects a Congressman by a majority of less than 100. Several times it has been less than fifty. Mr. Sam J. Pugh, Republican, is the incumbent and is his party's nominee this year again. The Democrats have chosen Mr. J. N. Kehoe, of Maysville, as their leader, and he is the strongest they have had in years. It is believed that he can poll hundreds of votes more than any other candidate that might have been nominated, and, while the district is always very close, his election is counted upon as among the highly probable results of the November election.

DRUMMERS AND GERMANS.

Statement They Are for Bryan This Year.
Opposed to Trusts and Imperialism.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.—"There can be no question but that Mr. Bryan is stronger before the people to-day than he was in 1896, and as that is a fact, he will, in my judgment, be elected President in November."

This remark was made by Representative Cooper, of Texas, this afternoon.

"On my way here from Texas," he continued, "I met and conversed with a large number of drummers. With hardly an exception they said that this time they would work and vote for Bryan. They told me that at least 90 per cent. of the drummers of the country, those who did such effective work for McKinley in 1896, will this year vote for Bryan. The drummers understand that unless something is done the trusts of the country will gradually but surely rob them of their livelihood."

"As to the German vote," added Mr. Cooper, "speaking for my section of the country you can say the Germans are decidedly opposed to the imperialistic tendency and policy of the administration, and they tell me that they will support Bryan this time. They know he is honest, and that he stands for the Constitution and the flag, as opposed to imperialism and a large standing army. The Germans in the South on these two questions are united, and I take it that the Germans of the Northwest believe the same way. That being true, I believe Mr. Bryan will receive a majority of the German vote of the country. I think it is agreed by everybody that there is really but one issue before the country to-day, and that is the issue of imperialism and militarism. You will find in November that the people are not yet ready to abandon the Constitution and the Republic for an empire."

JOSEPH McDOWELL, the defaulting cashier of the Estill County bank, at Irvine, who was arrested a few months ago in Kansas City, Mo., and returned to the Irvine jail, has been released on bond. His bondsmen are M. L. McDowell, Edward McDowell, Douglass Hedges, of Robertson County, and a Mr. Hume, of Irvine. Mr. McDowell is reported to be in very bad health.

FOUND DEAD.

Mr. Alfred Turner, a prominent farmer, Passed Away Sunday at His Home Near Mt. Carmel.

Mr. Alfred Turner, a highly esteemed citizen of Fleming County, was found dead Sunday evening at his home near Mt. Carmel.

His wife and children had attended Ruggles camp meeting and on arriving home in the evening found Mr. Turner lying on the bed, dead.

Investigation showed he had milked the cows and brought the milk to the house, where it was found still warm. The supposition is that he was stricken with heart disease and had sought his couch, where he soon expired.

Mr. Turner was about fifty-four years of age. His wife, who is a sister of Mr. Charles Nute, of Flemingsburg, survives, with two daughters.

The funeral takes place to-day, Rev. Mr. Clark officiating. Burial in the Carmel Cemetery.

LEAPED FROM WINDOW.

A Woman Claiming Maysville as Her Home in Trouble at Dayton, Ohio.

DAYTON, OHIO, July 29.—About noon to-day a man and woman of perhaps thirty-five and thirty years of age respectively registered at the New York Hotel, on East Second street, as Walter E. Roland and wife, and were assigned to a room on the second floor. Later in the day the man left the hotel and did not return. Shortly after 9 o'clock to-night the woman jumped from the window of her room to the stone paved court in the rear of the hotel, a distance of about twenty feet, sustaining injuries which may result fatally. It was subsequently ascertained that her real name is Lucy Ferris and her home is at Maysville, Ky. It is believed that her desperate leap was a deliberate attempt to end her existence because of the fact that her lover had deserted her. While being removed to a hospital she imploringly asked of the officers to end her misery by taking her life, declaring that existence was without a charm for her.

The New Indiana About Ready for Business—Coal Shipments From the Kanawha - Other Items.

The ferryboat Laurance left Sunday for Madison for an overhauling.

About one hundred barges, containing 1,250,000 bushels of coal, came out of the Kanawha on the present swell.

The new steamer Indiana, one of the handsomest and most modern steamers on western waters, will come to Cincinnati the first part of next week, probably Sunday. Everything is in readiness, and steam can be raised on her at any time. The company is figuring on having the boat leave Howard's ship yards Saturday. She is the widest of the mail line company's boats—City of Louisville and City of Cincinnati, and will probably be the fastest on the Ohio river. She was especially built to run between Cincinnati and Louisville.

A CHINESE CHRISTIAN VILLAGE.

A Sample of the Results of Foreign Mission Work.

[Missionary Intelligencer.]

In striking contrast with its surroundings is the little village of Kadeng, near Binghai, China. There are only three houses, but it has a population of fifty-one persons. They are all Christians. The patriarch of this village has been a Christian for twenty-eight years. His son-in-law knows a little about the use of foreign medicines and sanitary conditions and has carefully guarded against filth and watched for the first indications of the dread bubonic plague. During nearly the whole year since the plague began the entire village has assembled for a daily prayer-meeting at each house in turn. While thousands died in neighboring villages, there has not been a single case here.

Let those who scoff at the work of Christian missions explain away a fact like this. Three generations of Christians dwell there. The superstitions of their heathen neighbors have no more hold upon them than upon American boys and girls. Two useful preachers of the gospel have already gone out from here; and a boy leads his class of over 100 in the Anglo-Chinese College at Foochow.

It is in groups like this that the missionary gifted with prophetic vision sees a redeemed China in the near future.

The Democratic State Central Committee meets at Covington Thursday and will name the State Campaign Committee. Ex-Governor McCreary will, it is thought, be made Chairman of the latter committee.

Don't Be Blind To Facts You Should Know

The Testing of the Eyes by a competent Optician is not a matter of guess work, nor is it a matter of trying on glasses promiscuously, but it is a science governed by principles which none but a person who has studied the science of Optics can understand. We have, with years of experience and close application to properly fitting of glasses to the sight, acquired the knowledge of knowing how, a fact which certainly gives us a great advantage.

Come and let us examine your eyes and we will advise you regarding the true condition of them.

OATH OF BLOOD.

Letter of and Italian Suicide Bearing on King Humbert's Assassination.

New York, July 30—Ten days ago an Italian at Paterson, N. J., named Carbone Speranza, laid down his life and so absolved himself from his pledge to kill King Humbert of Italy. He killed Giuseppe Pessina, and then took his own life. It was said that he held high place in the Mafia. The two men quarreled and Speranza shot Pessina and blew out his own brains. A very strange letter was found in the murderer's pocket. In the letter which Speranza had prepared he set forth that he was chosen by his anarchist comrades to kill the King of Italy, but that, owing to the fact that he was in this country on the date set for the attempt at assassination, he could not fulfill the obligation. "This is not of my bidding," wrote Speranza, "but the good and brave society wills it. On February 2, in Italy, it was my lot and my order to kill the king. My number came out in America and I could not do it. They gave me liberty, but ordered that the will of the society must be obeyed. They have said that because I was in America, that I could do nothing but I will show them that I do not talk only. Companions, either renounce the society or in silence obey the oath of blood."

READERS

Of the market reports. Especially eager are they just now to keep posted on the WHEAT quotations. Most city folks don't care a fig whether "wheat's a bushel or corn's a peck." Not so, however, with the agriculturist. To him the daily market fluctuations are of more importance than the greatest game of base ball ever played. That which interests the farmer also becomes of much moment with us. Our interests are identical. Upon his success depends ours. Therefore, while the crop is being moved, we have arranged to publish the latest Cincinnati and Chicago quotations, for the benefit of our country friends. The corrected figures will appear in this space each day and will be obtained from a reliable source. Farmers may depend upon them being strictly up-to-date:

Chicago Wheat, 75¼.
